- Q2. This news report was taken from “The Star” Wednesday, 20th September 2023. Read the article and answer the following questions:

PETALING JAYA: Public Bank has issued a scam alert urging customers to exercise caution when encountering social media advertisements for mooncake sales that require a third-party app to make payments. These unknown third-party apps that are not hosted on the official stores could pose a security risk, potentially containing malicious apps that could allow a scammer to obtain full access to a user’s device.

In a notice sent to customers over email, the Bank states that once the malicious app is installed, it could capture both personal and financial details of the user when they make a payment at the checkout page. With this information, fraudsters will then be able to access a user’s account and transfer out all the remaining funds. Public Bank advises that customers be on the lookout for red flags, including if the app is only offered through links or APK files from sellers, not official app stores.
